

A sundown chat with the Singapore Chamber of Maritime Arbitration

New Chambers and the SCMA jointly invite you to a sundown chat with the SCMA

SYNOPSIS:

The Singapore Chamber of Maritime Arbitration (SCMA) was originally established in 2004 under management by the Singapore International Arbitration Centre. Acting on industry feedback, the SCMA was independently reconstituted in May 2009 and adopted the industry preferred model of non-administered arbitration. This session aims to provide attendees with an understanding of present day SCMA and our model of arbitration. The following points will be discussed:

- SCMA Model of “light-touch” Arbitration
- SCMA Case Statistics
- Strategy for Growing the Pie (“4 x 4 Approach”)
- Joining the SCMA Panel of Arbitrators

WHEN: 5.30 pm, Thursday, 14 September 2017

PROGRAMME:

Registration: 5.15 pm

Talk: 5.30 pm

WHERE:

New Chambers

L34, Deutsche Bank Place

126 Phillip Street, Sydney

Please RSVP by Friday, 8 September 2017 to Rebecca Cook <cook@newchambers.com.au> or 9151 2060

NEW/CHAMBERS

New Chambers comprises some of Australia’s most highly respected barristers. Members of New Chambers practice in courts, tribunals and inquiries throughout Australia and internationally, as well as in all forms of alternative dispute resolution including arbitration and mediation. New Chambers has extensive expertise in the area of admiralty, maritime and international trade, with its members regularly recognised as leaders in this field.

The Singapore Chamber of Maritime Arbitration (SCMA) is one of Asia’s leading arbitration centre. SCMA provides a framework for maritime and international trade arbitrations that is responsive to the needs of users. SCMA’s members and users come from all sectors of the maritime and international trade communities and from all countries. Together with SCMA’s specialized Panel of Arbitrators and proven track record, SCMA offers the maritime and international trade communities a neutral, cost-effective and flexible approach to resolve their disputes expeditiously.

Supported By

