

You are invited to a breakfast panel discussion with ArbitralWomen in Sydney on Tuesday 15 March 2016

“How to build a practice as a Sydney-based female arbitrator”

- How best to network and source appointments
- Tips on gaining the necessary experience to get appointed and on panels
- What panels should one aim for and how panel appointments are made

PANELLISTS

Jo Delaney

Special Counsel and Arbitrator
Baker & McKenzie

Daisy Mallett

Senior Associate and Arbitrator
King & Wood Mallesons

Julie Soars

Barrister, Mediator and Arbitrator
7 Wentworth Selborne

Erika Williams

Associate and Arbitrator in training
Baker & McKenzie

Date	Tuesday 15 March 2016
Time	7.30am-9.00am (panel discussion starts at 7.45am)
Venue	Australian Disputes Centre Level 16, 1 Castlereagh Street, Sydney NSW 2000
RSVP please	By no later than 10 March 2016 to Jo.Delaney@bakermckenzie.com

Free event for ArbitralWomen members and their friends and colleagues

Light refreshments will be served

Please pass this flyer on to anyone who you think may be interested

NSW Bar Association CPD
This event is accredited for CPD purposes and attendees may claim 1.0 point in the Strand most appropriate to them.

Law Society of NSW MCLE points
If this particular activity is relevant to a member's immediate or long term needs in relation to their professional development and practice of the law, they should claim 1.0 unit

ArbitralWomen thanks the Australian Disputes Centre for their sponsorship of this event

Supporting
Organisation

