We look forward to welcoming you to Melbourne in October 2016 for the ABA and Vic Bar Conference. This first time conference brings together the whole of the profession on a national scale. Prominent speakers from all corners of the law will discuss the latest state of play in the legal profession; the big issues, market trends, political influences on the law and global trends in dispute resolution.

An exciting two day program brings together eminent keynote speakers and panels from the Bar, the Bench and the major firms with government and corporate lawyers.

The program examines the issues from the viewpoint of all stakeholders and considers the roles played by each part of the profession in the dispute resolution process.
