

2015 PRELIMINARY ABA CONFERENCE SAVE THE DATE

Washington DC, USA

3 to 5 July 2015

The ABA is pleased to confirm destinations for the ABA's biannual conferences as Washington DC and Boston.

The Washington DC conference, 'Trends in American Justice: Impacts for Australia', will take place from 3 to 5 July.

The Boston conference, 'Survival of the fittest: Challenges for Advocates in the 21st Century' will take place from 7 to 10 July.

The Washington DC preliminary conference will focus on the domestic impact of the American justice system. Taking place over the Independence Day holiday weekend, the program will include conference sessions and a tour of the Library of Congress, Capitol building and National Archives and a spectacular Fourth of July celebration, taking in the holiday atmosphere and fireworks in the United State of America's capital.

The ABA conference website will launch at the end of October and registrations for both 2015 conferences will open in early November with early-bird registration rates offered until January 2015. Rooms have been reserved for accommodation at the conference hotels and rates and along with booking details, will be available shortly.
