ADC was established as the Australian Commercial Disputes Centre (ACDC) in 1986 by the NSW Attorney General, the Hon. Terry Sheahan AO, and the Hon. Sir Laurence Street, Chief Justice of the NSW Supreme Court. Sir Laurence conducted ADC's first mediation training in January 1986.

National & International Accreditation

ADC's prestigious training enables you to:

- Gain ADC's specialist 'Online' Mediation Accreditation
- Qualify to apply for Australian National Mediation Accreditation
- Qualify for international recognition through the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators, London

Sizzling Summer Programme

To help you make the most of the online experience ADC offers seamless on-boarding and training support:

- Streamlined registration process
- Welcome email, hard-copy course materials sent direct to your door, and our online on-boarding concierge service
- Comprehensive multi-media training materials, including: videos, podcasts, templates, manual and a full reading list

Your online time is interactive and engaging, while still allowing you plenty of time for that early morning swim and sundowner drinks.

Online with the ADC's Leading Faculty & Special Guests

Enjoy interactive discussions, small group exercises, and simulated mediations, led by Australia's leading mediator-practitioner/coaches and our special guests. ADC's mediation courses have more professional coaching time, so that you can be 'coached to your level' by our industry leaders.

Register Early. Course places limited to 18 participants.
