There are multiple positions available for both full time Commissioners and Acting Commissioners.

Commissioners and Acting Commissioners exercise the jurisdiction of the Court to determine certain of its cases, either by conciliation or hearing on the merits.

These include special knowledge of and experience (and, in some cases, formal qualifications) in such fields as local government administration, town or country planning, environmental planning, environmental science, environmental assessment, land valuation, architecture, engineering, surveying, building construction, the management of natural resources and Crown land, urban design or heritage, or being an Australian lawyer.

Appointees must hold a current NSW Driver Licence or equivalent and be willing to travel for the purposes of work.

It is desirable that appointees be, or be qualified to be, accredited as a mediator under the National Mediator Accreditation System and full time Commissioners must be willing to obtain such accreditation after appointment.
