Views from Asia on the Convention, incorporating the topic: 'Ethical and professional issues on mediation representation'

The Oxford Dictionary defines 'ethics' as 'moral principles that govern a person's behaviour or the conducting of an activity'. In mediation, moral principles are especially salient, given that the attraction of mediation to disputants is often described as the result of party autonomy in two key respects – the right of disputants to determine procedural fairness in the mediation process and the right of disputants to determine substantive fairness in the outcome. This session will explore the issues of ethics and professional issues on mediation and mediation representation. We will thoroughly consider the role of mediators and lawyers who represent clients at mediation, and discuss situations when the discharge of the mediators' duties or the lawyers' duties at mediation gives rise to ethical or professional issues.

Moderator

Tat Lim Aequitas Law, Singapore; Co-Chair, IBA Mediation Committee

Panellists

James Claxton Kobe University, Kobe

Joel Lee National University of Singapore, Singapore

Geoff Sharp International Mediator, Wellington

Jody Sin The Resolution Mediation Consultants, Hong Kong SAR

Thomas J Stipanowich William H. Webster Chair in Dispute Resolution, Pepperdine University, Malibu

1130 – 1150 Coffee/tea break

1150 – 1320

Views from Australia, New Zealand and UK on the Convention, incorporating the topic: 'Mediation as a profession'

On 26 June 2018, the United Nations Commission on International Trade Law approved the final draft of the Singapore Mediation Convention. On 20 December 2018 the UN General Assembly adopted the Convention. Can the Singapore Mediation Convention be for mediation what the New York Convention is for arbitration? Alternative Dispute Resolution has been developing rapidly internationally. There has been broad-based advocacy for the increased use of mediation, arbitration and related processes to resolve disputes in many jurisdictions. Is the introduction of the Singapore Mediation Convention a turning point? What are the emerging issues?

Moderator

Mary Walker 9 Wentworth Chambers, Sydney; Senior Vice Chair, IBA Mediation Committee

Panellists

The Honourable P A Bergin SC International Judge, Singapore International Commercial Court, Singapore

Jane Diplock Director, Singapore Exchange, Singapore

Thursday continued

1440 – 1610

Views from USA and Europe on the Convention, incorporating the topic: 'Fee arrangements that supports mediation'

Adoption of the Singapore Convention signals a significant acknowledgment of mediation as a valuable tool to resolve cross-border commercial disputes. The Singapore Convention, like the New York Convention, has the power to significantly and positively shape international trade around the world by providing a dispute resolution structure upon which trading parties can rely. How are USA and EU firms looking at the Convention? What advice are they giving to international clients regarding the Convention? How are dispute resolution institutions adopting? What can counsel do to incorporate dispute resolution clauses under the Convention? What fee arrangements?

Moderators

Federico Antich Studio dell'Avvocato Antich, Florence; Vice Chair, IBA Mediation Committee

Gary Birnberg JAMS, Miami; Co-Chair, IBA Mediation Committee

Tom Valenti Valenti Law, Chicago; Vice Chair, IBA Mediation Committee

Panellists

Michel Kallipetis QC Quadrant Chambers, London

S.I. Strong University of Missouri, Columbia

Gregory Vijayendran SC President, The Law Society of Singapore, Singapore

1610 – 1630 Coffee/tea break

1630 – 1730

Views on the future of Investor-State Dispute Settlement (ISDS)

The current investor state dispute settlement (ISDS) system has faced criticism with regard to some important aspects of the procedures it offers. A lack of transparency, neutrality of the deciding third party, the limitations of amicus curiae involvement and a lack of flexibility to take into account considerations beyond the applicable law are some of the concerns raised. In recent years, there have been calls to increase the use of mediation for the resolution of such disputes. This session reflects on whether the Singapore Convention is likely to result in an increase in the use of mediation and considers the obstacles and challenges of this difficult area of dispute resolution.

Moderators

International Bar Association

the global voice of the legal profession

The International Bar Association (IBA), established in 1947, is the world's leading organisation of international legal practitioners, bar associations, law firms and law societies.

The IBA influences the development of international law reform and shapes the future of the legal profession throughout the world. It has a membership of more than 80,000 individual lawyers and more than 190 bar associations and law societies spanning over 170 countries.

Inspired by the vision of the United Nations, the IBA was founded in the same spirit, just before the Universal Declaration of Human Rights was proclaimed in 1948.

The IBA covers all practice areas and professional interests, providing members with access to leading experts and up-to date information, enabling them to better represent their clients' interests.

Through its various committees, fora and task forces, the IBA facilitates the exchange of information and views among its members as to laws, practices and professional responsibilities relating to the practice of law around the globe.

IBA Mediation Committee Overview

The Mediation Committee focuses on laws, practices and procedures relating to the mediation, conciliation, and negotiation of transnational disputes, as well as other alternative dispute resolution (ADR) processes. The committee seeks to advance the information available to the international legal community about such processes and techniques for implementing them; to contribute to the development of improved practices and ethical standards in the field; and to draw attention to legal developments and problems relating to mediation and ADR. The committee also has a subcommittee devoted to developments related to the UNCITRAL Model Law on Mediation.
