1 HOUR SEMINAR
1 CPD POINT IN THE PRACTICE
MANAGEMENT AND BUSINESS SKILLS
STRAND

This panel discussion aims to provide practical tips to barristers about making the most of their skills and time, including on how to develop new practice areas and billing practices. It also seeks to provide suggested ways for barristers to better inform solicitors of their areas of expertise as well as the areas in which they would like to work and accept briefs. The panel draws from a range of different perspectives, including counsel, solicitor and clerk, and will continue the discussion from the June CPD, "In conversation with our clients: Fresh perspectives on equitable briefing"; and from the October workshop, "Barristers' CVs: The Good, the Bad, the Ugly". All welcome.

The panel discussion will be followed by refreshments, with thanks to LexisNexis.

Numbers are limited. Please click here to register.

This CPD is presented by the Diversity and Equality Committee and the Women Barristers Forum and is part of the WBF's "Be Seen. Be Heard. Be Briefed." CPD series.
