

National Sports Tribunal Member Vacancies

The National Sports Tribunal (NST) is seeking applications from suitably qualified candidates to fill a small number of positions on the Panel of Tribunal Members. We are seeking experienced legal professionals and sports subject matter experts, including medical practitioners, with specific skills and experience.

The NST provides independent, effective and efficient dispute resolution services to sporting bodies, athletes and support personnel in Australia. Tribunal Members play a central role in the provision of these services, forming a diverse panel of independent arbitrators, mediators, legal and subject matter experts to be called upon on a case-by-case basis.

Applications will be assessed by an independent selection advisory committee for consideration by the Australian Government. Successful candidates will be appointed by the Minister for Sport for up to five years.

Women and practitioners from First Nations and culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds are particularly encouraged to apply.
